Chairing notes and frequently asked questions:

- Please arrive no later than 8.00 am
- Please open the conference with a 10 minute opening address: In your introduction please feel free to either preface the overview of the sessions coming up within your chairing period; or, better still, to give some observations on an aspect of the event theme you are personally passionate about.
- Introducing speakers: please only introduce each speaker via name, position, and organisation. For standalone sessions, please only read a couple of sentences of the bio provided.
- You may like to note down key takeaway(s) for each session so you can include them as you wrap up the session or in your Closing Address
- Please facilitate Q&A for standalone presentations. For panel discussions, please remind moderators about the slido questions at the end of the session (if they miss it).
- Announcements during the day: Prior to morning tea or lunch, please remind people that they will receive presentations within a week of the event, via a web link (delegates ask this question often at events)
- Timing: please ensure speakers are kept to the relevant program timing. Session times allocated include for any Q&A. If there is no time for Q&A, speakers will be more than happy to engage with delegates in the breaks. Timing is key to the event - to ensure all speakers have the allocated time on stage, and that delegates also have sufficient time for networking.
- You will have flash cards stating, "5 minutes", "2 minutes", "0 minutes" - please flash them at the speaker to allow them to wind up their session.
- Where time does allow, please encourage Q&A or comments following sessions. Staff will be in the room with a roving microphone. We are also using Slido
- PDF versions of Powerpoint presentations will be distributed to delegates post event, where they have been authorised (most speakers do authorise distribution). A drop-box style link will be distributed to delegates within a few days to one week post event. Some speakers amend their distributable presentations post event, hence the delay.
- Where you sit... please use a seat in the front row with easy access to the stage and podium. This will be much more comfortable than sitting on any staged area / at a panel table.

Thank you for being involved in such a key way!
