WHAT WE'RE ABOUT

Meeting on Kurna Land, the National First Nations Housing and Homelessness Forum brings together influential voices from across the nation to share knowledge and experiences in housing supply and capacity, with a focus on the policies driving change in homelessness and participation for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities.

This forum provides a unique opportunity to connect with Indigenous and mainstream housing providers, government representatives, social services, architects, construction companies, and investors committed to making a positive impact on the housing needs of First Nations people.

Powerful Indigenous voices from across Australia stand together on this Advisory Board. Their knowledge has built this forum focused on community innovation and the future of Indigenous self-determination. As leaders across the housing spectrum from homelessness to culturally safe housing they bring deep expertise and lived experience. They are committed to sharing key insights shaping the sector through open discussion practical solutions and actionable change.

WHY ATTEND AS A TEAM?

Attending the National First Nations Housing & Homelessness Forum as a team is a strategic opportunity to build organisational capability, deepen cultural knowledge, and drive collective action. With concurrent streams on both housing and homelessness and interactive yarning circles your team can return with a stronger, more unified vision for community-led solutions.

Team attendance offers:

- Broader Learning, Greater Reach: Attend multiple sessions at once, then regroup to share insights that inform whole-of-organisation thinking and strategy.
- Inspire Organisational Growth: Gain fresh perspectives from cross-sector leaders and changemakers, sparking innovation, motivation, and a shared vision for community development.
- Stronger Inter-Agency Collaboration: Build connections with peers across the sector and identify partnership opportunities that support long-term, community-led solutions.
- Collective Implementation: Accelerate the impact of new ideas when your team reflects, plans, and acts together—ensuring momentum beyond the forum.
- Cost-Effective Professional Development: Upskill multiple staff members at once with discounted group pricing. Booking a table of 8 also unlocks added benefits like promotional exposure and savings.

Secure your table today and lead bold, community-informed change in First Nations housing and homelessness.

WHY SPONSOR

INVEST IN CLOSING THE GAP ON INDIGENOUS HOUSING AND HOMELESSNESS OUTCOMES AND DISCOVER OPPORTUNITIES FOR COLLABORATION

AS A SPONSOR, YOU WILL...

- Increase access and representation by funding delegate bursaries for remote and grassroots Indigenous organisations—helping ensure the Forum reflects the full diversity of voices and experiences across the sector
- Strengthen your organisation's leadership on reconciliation and equity, through visible and meaningful support of a community-driven national initiative
- Build relationships with key stakeholders and explore potential partnerships that align with your organisation's operations, values, and employment footprint—creating lasting benefits for communities and corporate social responsibility goals
- Support long-term impact, as sponsored delegates return to their communities equipped with knowledge, connections, and strategies they can embed into local initiatives, programs, and advocacy efforts

Your sponsorship will directly support the attendance of Indigenous delegates from remote regions and underfunded organisations—ensuring they have a seat at the table to shape national conversations on housing and homelessness.

It is also an opportunity to explore collaborative partnerships across the housing, infrastructure, and planning sectors—opening pathways toward more effective, community-embedded solutions and better housing outcomes for Indigenous people.

WHO SHOULD SPONSOR:

- Housing and construction companies with an interest in First Nations regional and remote development
- Government departments and agencies involved in housing, health, and infrastructure
- Financial institutions committed to social impact and action plans for reconciliation
- Foundations, philanthropic groups, and First Nations-led funding bodies
- Any organisation committed to supporting the self-determination and wellbeing of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples
